What can I access via IEEE Explore?
Lamar University has access to the IEEE All Society Periodicals Package.

If we subscribe to the print edition of the journal we have access to it full text.

How do I Get to the databases?
1. Start at the library’s homepage: http://library.lamar.edu
2. Look for the Databases tab. Click on A to Z Database Listing.
3. Sign in with your LEA username and password.
4. Select IEEE All Society Periodicals Package from the list.

Alternately you can view the databases by subject area by following these instructions:
1. Start at the library’s homepage: http://library.lamar.edu
2. Look for the Databases tab. Click on Subject Database listing.
3. Sign in with your LEA username and password.
4. Select Engineering from the list.
5. Select the database you want to search.

How do I do a basic search?
- On any page, enter a keyword in the Global Search box and click . IEEE Xplore has a type-ahead feature that suggests keywords and phrases using values from the document title, publication title, subject, and index terms fields. If you see the search query you want, select it in the pop-up box. Selecting the query also runs the search.
- You can perform a basic search on the publication page or table of contents page for a publication. Enter a keyword in the Global Search box, click the Search within publication or Search within contents checkbox below it, and click .

Basic searching is available to all users of IEEE Xplore.
How do I do an Advanced Search?

More Advanced Searching
You must be signed in to your institution's subscription account to access advanced searching functions. IEEE members must be signed in to IEEE Xplore with their IEEE Web Account username and password.
1. Click Advanced Search under the Global Search box.
2. Enter a keyword, phrase, author name, or search query in the text box(es).
3. Select search fields and operators.
4. Click . IEEE Xplore returns a list of results. Limiting to Subscribed Content or the included with your subscription icon indicates articles where you have access to full text.

Revising Search Results
- You can refine your search results by content type, author, subject, and more by clicking the facet you are interested in adding or removing.
- You can modify or replace your search query or click a search suggestion provided by IEEE Xplore.

Searching within Search Results
To search for a subset of results within your current results set, enter one or more keywords in the Search within results text box and click Search.

Selecting a Result
1. Select the number of titles listed on the page using the Results Per Page drop-down menu, and specify how the titles are sorted using the Sort By drop-down menu.
2. View multiple pages of results by using the Previous and Next links at the top of the screen, or the page numbers or Previous and Next links at the bottom of the screen.
3. Click Abstract to view a document's abstract, or PDF to view the full text.

Note: You can view full text if you or your institution subscribes to the publication. All users can view basic quick abstracts. We have access to the All Society Periodicals Package titles with AbstractPlus from 1998 to date.
4. Use the Journal Finder link to determine LU’s holdings in Print or Online format. Request items we do not have through Interlibrary Loan.
